In Muskegon, Michigan, at the northeast corner of the public square, there is a bronze statue of Lincoln, done by Charles Henry Niehaus, and cast by the Roman Bronze Works of New York, presented to the city of Muskegon by Charles H. Hackley, May 30, A. D. 1900.

There is a bronze figure at each of the four corners, one of Grant being at the southeast corner, with a large monument in the center of the square, which occupies a whole city block of lawn and trees.

Dear Sir:

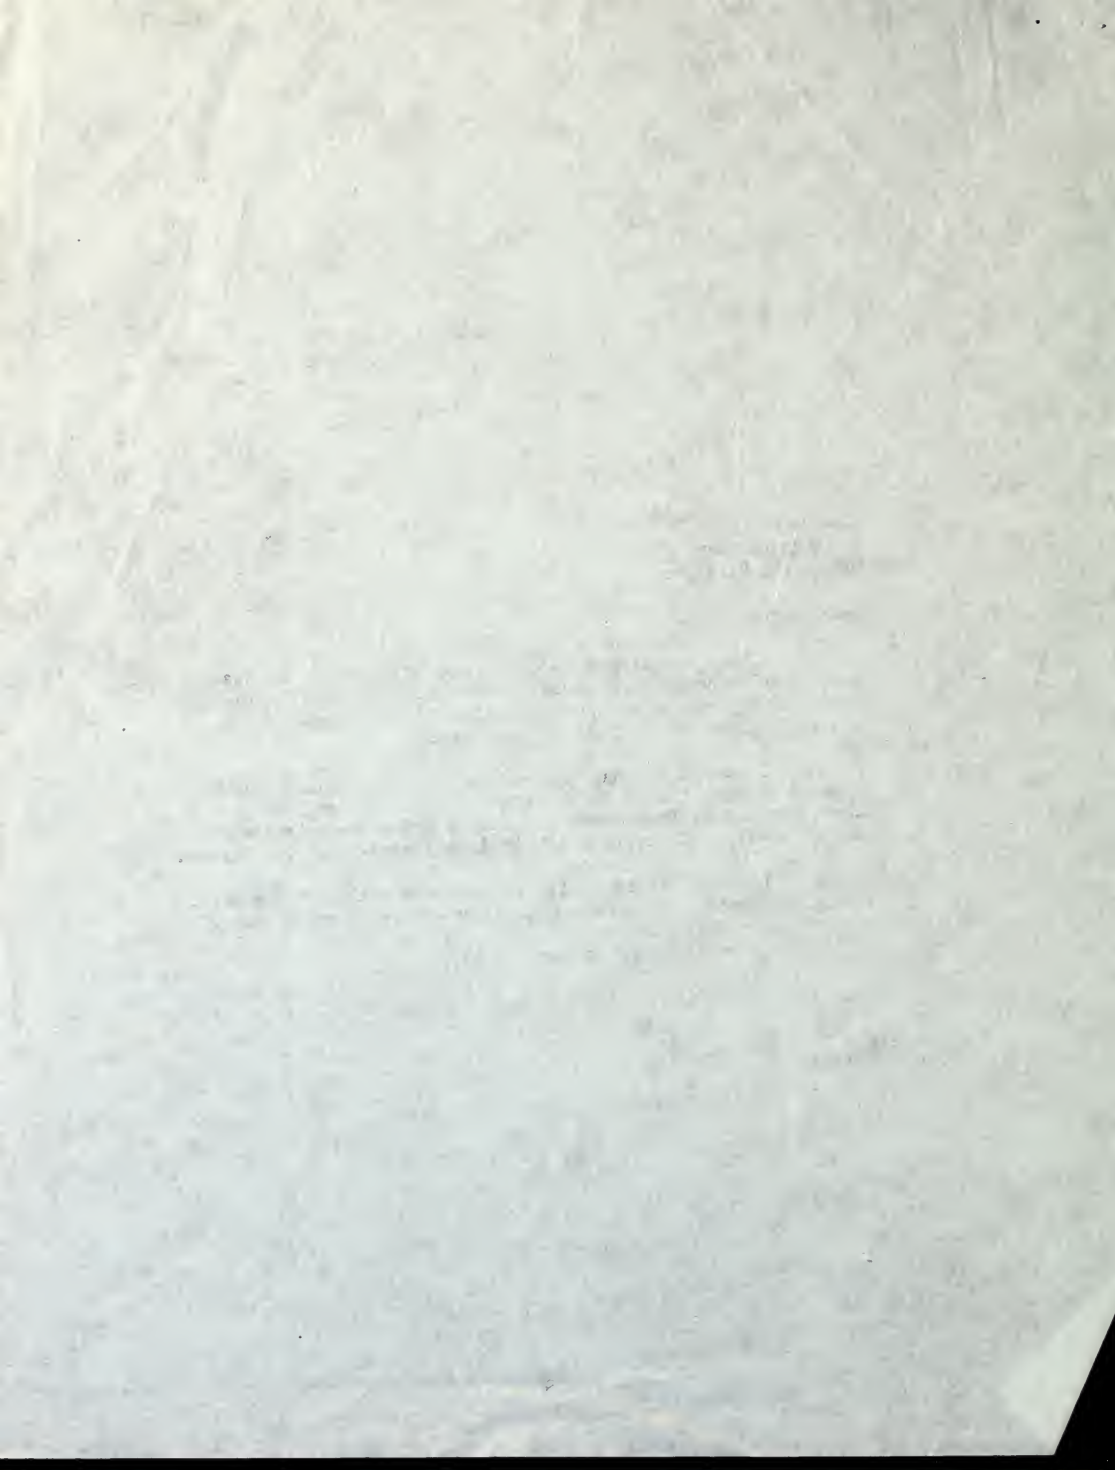

I am preparing a brochure upon the heroic bronze statues of Lincoln throughout the world. In this is included a photograph and a description of the Lincoln given by Mr. Hackley to the City of Muskegon.

I should greatly appreciate it if you would kindly give me information as to the statues that are on the other three corners of the Square and also a brief description of the monument or fountain which is in the center of the Square. 2

Inasmuch as this will go to press within a few days, I should greatly appreciate this information by early mail.

Yours very truly,

Very sincerely yours,
